PREDICTION THAT HAYS WILL RESIGN FROM THE CABINET

ANXIOUS FOR SERVICE

The Position Offered Him as Adviser to the Moving Picture Industry Appeals to Him; Suggestion That Denby May Take Hays' Place, Keeping His Other Post Also

(By David Lawrence.)
(Copyright, 1922, by The Daily Times.)

Washington, Jan. 12.—Will Hays probably will resign as postmaster general and accept the offer to become an adviser extraordinary to the moving picture industry—a sort of Judge Landis for the film business.

Those friends with whom Mr. Hays has discussed the matter say he is persuaded by the fascinating opportunities of the new position rather than its $150,000 a year, for when he was considering the position in the Cabinet it was admitted that his earning power in the law business was at least that figure.

Mr. Hays' inclination toward the new job is based therefore on his belief that he can render a big service, possibly even greater than in the reorganization of the mails. The postoffice department is after all a big business institution with set ways and regulations more or less determined by Congress. The chance for individual work is hardly as great as in an entirely new enterprise like the supervision of the moving pictures of the nation. And Mr. Hays loves novelty and organizing tasks. When he leaves the postal service it will be because he believes the new position offers even more congenial work than he has had.

Mr. Hays is a deacon in the Presbyterian church. He knows what the right-thinking folks of the country believe ought to be the limits on the screen. The moving picture leaders themselves know it. What they fear is that without regulation some of their own number may overstep the bounds of propriety and here and there involuntarily start the machinery of censorship with momentum enough eventually to bring about national prohibition or censorship. What they want of Will Hays is to take hold of the whole thing and regulate the movie producers as well as handle the public relations of the industry. Mr. Hays would be expected to deal with legislatures and legislative committees everywhere and present the better side of the moving picture business.

But if it were a task of prevention of censorship alone. Mr. Hays wouldn't be interested. He is persuaded that the moving picture has educational opportunities which have that a greater chance for moral uplift lies on the screen than in any other medium of thought communication today. His enthusiasm for the new work is typical. He has from the beginning been tempted to loose his energies on it.

VARIOUS CLUBS COOPERATING.

The various clubs of the city are cooperating with the Editor of the Times in raising funds for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation campaign which begins Monday and lasts a week. The amount allotted to this state to raise is $35,000 and Wilson will respond nobly to this appeal to commemorate the great achievements of our ex-President and thus show our appreciation while he is living and can enjoy it rather than spreading the flowers on his grave, when he cannot know anything about it.

Tomorrow we hope to be in a position to publish the names of the members composing the various committees who have so kindly agreed to cooperate in this matter. We trust every teacher in the county will cooperate and enable the children to donate something if it is only a dime to the cause. Wilson county should raise a good sum, and we doubt not but that she will do so. We beg to acknowledge the following contributions.

J. D. Bardin $5.00.
Jonas Gettinger $100.00.
J. D. Gold $10.00.
